Energy
Efficiency

Doing our bit to keep you snug and warm in your home.

Looking after our world and your wallet...

The rising cost of energy bills and the impact on the environment means we all want to keep our consumption to a minimum. One of the best ways to achieve this is to choose thermally efficient products which keep warmth in and cold out, saving money and emission levels.

RATING

Throughout our brochure you'll have seen that most doors display an energy rating. These are your guide to the most energy efficient products, with 'A' delivering the highest performance levels.

Tests prove a Distinction GRP Composite Door is - 19%

More thermally efficient than a
48mm solid timber core composite door.

17%

More thermally efficient than a
44mm traditional timber panelled door.

FACT

Doors were tested at the University of Salford's Energy House. This represents a typical Salford 1919 terraced house and its construction represents 21% of the UK's current housing stock. The house has been reconstructed in a fully environmentally controllable chamber, in which climatic conditions can be maintained, varied, repeated and patterns monitored. For the test, the inside temperature of the Energy House was 25°C with an exterior temperature of 5°C.
